PRIVACY NOTICE.

September 2018

Clubs should be aware that the law has changed in relation to personal data collected or held by organisations and how this data is used or processed under the General Data Protection Regulation which will apply from 25th May 2018. The main concepts and principles are much the same as those under the current Data Protection Act. DCLIBA currently holds personal information as to the names, addresses and telephone numbers and other data as provided by the completion of Officer Nomination Forms, Competition entry forms and Club Registration forms. These details are recorded and stored for administrative use only and are not shared with any other persons or organisations or published outside the County, with the exception of details that are required by the EIBA, again for administrative purposes. Telephone numbers are published within the County only for those competition entrants who may need to contact one another.

This County has reviewed how we seek, record and manage consent under the new regulations and consider we have the correct procedures in place. However should any person seek to object, delete, or rectify information already provided or restrict processing in the future then they should notify the County Secretary.
